SOCIAL AMBASSADOR NEWS UPDATE

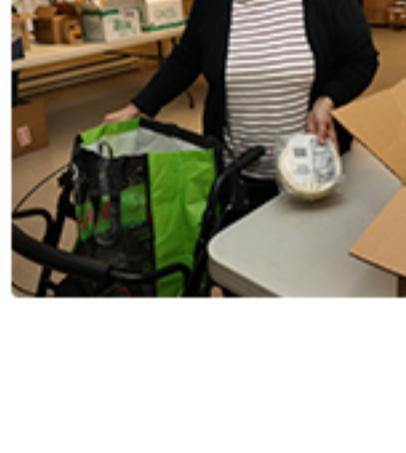

Dear <>Salutation>>,

You may not think of yourself as a hero . . . but I do!

As a Social Ambassador, you make an impact in the work to end hunger. As one who shares stories of deep and changing needs in our communities, you're helping more people see how they can care for our neighbors so together, we can respond with strategic solutions.

When you share the need with your social network, you encourage more people to volunteer or send a gift of support. So, in a very important way, you are accomplishing things we simply could not do without you!

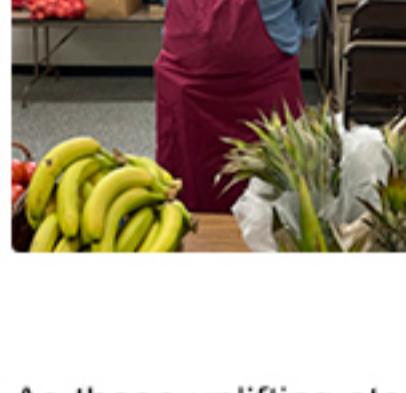

Thank you for sharing these stories . . .

Care for Real Food Pantry Serving Russian, Ukrainian Communities in Chicago

Between rising gas prices, inflation and the pandemic, Chicago food pantries are seeing a huge spike in need. At Care for Real in Edgewater, in addition to groceries, they have added . . .

As these uplifting stories show, when more people know our neighbors are facing hunger, more people can partner in the mission to provide food and hope to everyone across Chicago and Cook County.

Thank you for the way you expand our reach and amplify our message!

Together, we are greater!

Sincerely,

Subject: Serving Ukrainian Communities in Chicago

See how a partner food pantry in Edgewater has responded to a 332% increase in first-time clients, many of whom are Ukrainian refugees. I love how this partner of the Greater Chicago Food Depository is supporting their neighbors and thought you would want to hear too. Subject: Have you heard about Shirley?

Volunteering at a Greater Chicago Food Depository partner food pantry for more than a decade, Shirley Redmond says, “Being able to give people the opportunity to have nutritious food is wonderful.” Her work is inspiring, and I thought you would want to read it as well.
